

This Was Printed From Orlando Business Journal

Architecture & Engineering

VOA tapped to design $3.3M hangar building

Orlando Business Journal - by Cindy Barth, Managing Editor

Date: Monday, December 8, 2003, 12:00am EST - Last Modified: Thursday, December 4, 2003, 10:31am EST

ORLANDO -- VOA Associates Inc. is providing the design/build services for a three-bay hangar building at the Naval Air Station in Meridian, Miss.

The project, which is comprised of 11,665 square feet, will provide two wash bays capable of washing one T2 aircraft and one T45 aircraft simultaneously.

Construction currently is under way on the $3.3 million project, with completion scheduled for February 2004.

In other architecture and engineering news:

- Fugleberg Koch recently announced two additions to its staff. Donna Knight joined the firm as executive assistant to Robert A. Koch, partner and founder. Jeremy Williamson joined FKA as a project manager in the multifamily design studio.
- GTC Engineering Corp. was selected by West Groves Venture to provide civil engineering, permitting and construction administration services for the proposed Westyn Bay, Phases 4 and 5 project, a 70-lot, 35-acre single-family subdivision in Ocoee.
- Florida Engineering Group Inc. completed design and permitting for Cypress Preserve, a 72-acre, 125-lot residential development in St. Cloud.
- Mike Holbrook recently was named an associate at Bowyer-Singleton & Associates Inc. Holbrook currently is the manager of planning in the planning department.
- Seminole County awarded Bentley Architects & Engineers Inc. of Longwood a contract for architectural, engineering and civil engineering inspection services for the addition of a maintenance administration and warehouse facility at the Northwest Regional Wastewater Treatment Facility in Seminole County.
- Nodarse & Associates Inc. was selected to complete Orange County's continuing architectural services contract. N&A's scope of work will include all of the geotechnical engineering services requested by Orange County for the duration of the contract. N&A is serving as a subconsultant to KBJ Architects Inc. Daniel C. Stanfill, vice president and manager of geotechnical services, will be the project manager for the contract.
- Brian Bridges has joined The Evans Group as production department coordinator. In addition, Cindy Gainer has been promoted to assistant business manager.
- Cuhaci & Peterson Architects LLC has been awarded a contract to design The Shoppes of Lake Andrew. The 132,433-square-foot retail center is currently under way at 7201 Shoppes Drive in Brevard County. The contract is valued at more than $200,000.